

You'll Never Walk Alone

The church is the congregation of all who have been “born again” through faith in Jesus Christ and are indwelt by the Holy Spirit (1 Corinthians 12:12-14). This means the church is a “who”, not a “what”, and we do not stop being the church when we step out of the building. The “who” of the church has no racial, social or gender barriers (Galatians 3:28). When Paul wrote about the church being a “body”, he was showing us that under the church’s purpose was the unification of believers to be the hands, heart and eyes of Jesus on earth (1 Corinthians 12:14-20).

God created us with a body and a soul-an outer and an inner man. Taking care of what is happening in the inner man is very important if the church is to function as designed. Everybody, at one time or another, experiences fear, anxiety, sadness, loneliness, depression, fractures in relationships, and the list goes on (Ecclesiastes 3:1-8). It was never God’s intent for us to walk “alone”.
